Call For Rogers Brook Drainage Bids

Bids on Rogers Brook drainage will be opened Aug. 30 at 8 p.m. in the board of public works office.

The call for bids went out last week and it is expected that work may begin about two weeks after the opening of bids.

Engineer Ralph Preble pointed out this week that the work probably will take four months to complete.

He explained that bids will be requested on each section of the project. By doing so, he said, it will be possible to omit some sections in order to meet the budget set up by town meeting for the work if that move is necessary.

Shawsheen Heights

Drainage problems in Shawsheen Heights, however, are not yet solved. Mr. Preble said it will be at least two weeks before specifications are ready for that project.

The board of public works has reiterated its intention of having the drainage route follow the one proposed and voted by town meeting. It will be via Princeton ave., Sherborne st. and across Williams st. to Hussey's pond.

An alternate route had been suggested by Engineer Clinton Goodwin, across private property at the dead ends of Yale, George and Dartmouth streets by the end of Ayer st. to Sherbourne and Williams st. This route would cost $54,737, he said as opposed to $76,401 for the one voted by town meeting. The board felt, however, that the alternate route would not serve Corbett st. and could not be undertaken without a vote of town meeting. The price quoted by the engineer did not, he explained, include engineer's fees nor a 10 percent contingency fund.

Bids on the Rogers brook project were scheduled for advertisement earlier in the summer.

Red Cross Will Seek Emergency Funds Monday

A drive for disaster funds will be held by the Red Cross next Monday night.

The local chapter has announced plans to hold a residential drive, starting at 7:30. The money will go toward disaster relief in the flood-stricken areas of New England.

The appeal for funds is being made, the chapter said, with the consent of the United Fund of

But the damage did not come close to that left in the wake of Hurricane Edna last year or her sister, Carol.

Town streets fared well, B.P.W. Supt. Edward R. Lawson reported this week. A few small washouts were filled, he explained and some recently-filled trenches needed extra fill after the rain soaked them down.

Planning Board Hears Ambitious Plans For Big Home Developments

Current Session Of Legislature Could Solve Street Crisis

The town's fouled-up street situation may be solved by the legislature now in session.

Chairman of the Selectmen J. Everett Collins, explaining the logical steps to be taken regarding unacceptable streets in the town, said this session of the legislature could pass a bill giving selectmen the right to accept the streets.

He said Town Counsel Vincent Stulgis is now drafting a bill which could be admitted to this Tentative plans for a huge, 160-home development were discussed at the planning board meeting Monday night.

The board also discussed more definite plans for two smaller developments.

All three will be off Elm st., near Wilson's corner.

The Realty Construction company of Boston holds an agreement to purchase the Flying Feather farm and some surrounding property, it was disclosed. The area will include 118 acres and can hold 160 homes, according to that firm's representative.

The same firm also plans a development on the left side of Elm st., back of West Wind rd.

Harry Axelrod is the second builder with plans to develop a tract of land in that section.

HEARING ON ROUTE 28 TUESDAY IN LAWRENCE

The state department of public works will hold a public hearing next Tuesday morning at 9:30 in Lawrence city hall concerning Route 28 relocation.

The hearing is called for discussion of navigation clearances to be provided at the proposed bridge across the river.

Some answer to the recurrent question "Is the road to begin this fall?" may be forthcoming from the hearing. Rep. Frank S. Giles Jr. recently said he had assurances it will begin by Nov. 1 but there has been doubt in many minds due to the uncertainty of the proposed $125,000 bond issue.

A gold medal is designated for each of the six playgrounds but if a boy or girl does not meet the qualifications and achieve at least 14 points no medal is awarded. This season only four playgrounds met the requirements and were awarded gold medals for their champion boy or girl.

Honorable mention was given to Cynthia Turton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turton of Windsor st., who was a close runner-up for the gold medal.

Hussey's Heron Haven

The Great Blue Heron an impressive bird with a wingspread of about six feet is a yearly visitor to the Shawsheen pond. It is very interesting to watch the large bird fishing along the water's edge. After standing for a while, it darts its long neck into the water and seizes an unwary fish in its bill. They feed mainly on fish but are not ruinous to fishing as they mostly eat fish that people do not want. A pair of herons have been coming to the pond now for several years, stop off here for about a month and then take off for a new spot.

This type of heron is found all the way from Alaska to the West Indies. Parents are asked by neighbors and villagers alike, who enjoy watching the birds, to ask their youngsters to stop throwing stones at the visitors.

Registration Next Week At Central School Office

Registration of children who will enter the Central Elementary and the Stowe schools will be held next week.

Miss Catherine M. Barrett, principal of the Central school, has set Monday through Thursday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. as the times when children may register.

She stressed however, that only new children need register. Those who attended the school last year need not, she said.

Those new children who live in the Central Elementary school district will register, she explained, as will children who ordinarily would be entering the 4th, 5th and 6th grades at the West Center school. Those youngsters will enter the Stowe school until the West school addition is completed, she explained.

Parents of kindergarten pupils may call the Central school office, Miss Barrett pointed out, to check on the morning and afternoon assignments of their children.

All-Stars Beat C.Y.O., 2-1

The all-stars of the Twilight league beat the championship C.Y.O. team, 2-1, in a tight pitchers duel Tuesday night.

Before the game, the Townsman Business Manager, Raymond B. DeRuisseau, presented trophies to the members of the C.Y.O. team for winning the championship.

The small, gold baseballs were suitably inscribed "Two Champions - 1955". They were presented on behalf of Irving E. Rogers, publisher of the Townsman, who has donated the trophies for several years.

Bud Souter was the winning pitcher, after relieving Higgins. The all-stars pushed across single runs in the fourth and fifth while the C.Y.O. scored once in the top of the sixth inning.

Bob Grudzinski went all the way for the losers. The only extra-base hits were two doubles by Charles McCullom of the all-stars and Ted Boudreau of the C.Y.O. McCullom and Wetterberg of the all-stars drove in the two runs for the all-stars and Gus Reusch was responsible for the lone C.Y.O. tally.

All-Stars Beat C.Y.O., 2-1

The all-stars of the Twilight league beat the championship C.Y.O. team, 2-1, in a tight pitchers duel Tuesday night.

Before the game, the Townsman Business Manager, Raymond B. DeRuisseau, presented trophies to the members of the C.Y.O. team for winning the championship.

The small, gold baseballs were suitably inscribed "Two Champions - 1955". They were presented on behalf of Irving E. Rogers, publisher of the Townsman, who has donated the trophies for several years.

Bud Souter was the winning pitcher, after relieving Higgins. The all-stars pushed across single runs in the fourth and fifth while the C.Y.O. scored once in the top of the sixth inning.

Bob Grudzinski went all the way for the losers. The only extra-base hits were two doubles by Charles McCullom of the all-stars and Ted Boudreau of the C.Y.O. McCullom and Wetterberg of the all-stars drove in the two runs for the all-stars and Gus Reusch was responsible for the lone C.Y.O. tally.

FIRST BOOSTER MEETING SCHEDULED

The first fall meeting of the Boosters club will be held Sept. 7 at the Andover Inn.

Membership Chairman Charles O. McCullom will discuss the annual membership drive during the meeting. Reservations must be made, it was announced, by Sept. 6 with John Rooks or the Inn.

Observe 63 Years Of Marriage

MR. AND MRS. PENRY C. WILSON

Sixty-three years of married life were quietly recognized last week by Penry C. and Jennie M. Wilson, 69 Park st.

No special festivities marked the occasion, but family and friends visited the couple to offer their congratulations.

"Pop" Wilson is a spry 84. He can often be seen waiting on customers at the Andover News company - a business he purchased some 29 years ago. It is now run by his son, P. Leroy Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson has reached her 91st birthday. The couple spent a quiet day last Friday - Aug. 19 - because of the excessive heat during the summer and the specially bad weather that day.

The Wilsons have many grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Among them are P. Leroy Wilson Jr., a member of the air force, Long Island, N.Y.; Alan L., now in England with the Air Force and Delight. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. P. Leroy Wilson, 9 Avon ave.

One great granddaughter is 11-month-old Linda Jaye Wilson, daughter of Alan.

project on the farm site will be in the more distant future, according to a spokesman for the planning board.

That area is in Zone B, requiring 150-foot frontage and 30,000 square feet of land in each lot.

No Plans Prepared

Although there were no immediate plans requiring planning board approval, the board had felt that some general knowledge of the builders' ideas would be helpful in avoiding a hodge-podge of new roads and in assuring proper drainage and sewers.

It was explained at the meeting that the larger project - on the Flying Feather farm - will allow access to both Elm st. and Pine st. Both have existing sewers.

The two smaller developments are being planned so that they will tie in, the board found.

Master Plan Dission

In other business Monday night, the board discussed the master plan with Engineer Clinton Goodwin and Consultant Nord Davis.

The pair reported on their study of land use in the town and on their study of parking facilities in the town. Member Eugene Bernardin was appointed to work with the two men on parking problems.

There was no further discussion of industrial areas, following last week's recommendation to the board that Lowell junction should be serviced with an interchange from Route 28 due to its industrial potential.

Charles T. Koza Will Graduate Magna Cum Laude

Charles T. Koza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Child, 8 Stirling st., will be graduated magna cum laude from Boston university school of public relations and communications Aug. 29.

Koza has been on the dean's list with a 90 or better average in every semester of his college career. He has majored in television and radio production and administration.

He attended Pynchard high school and graduated from Bridgton academy, Me., and studied at Emerson college. He is a member of Alpha Pi Theta fraternity.

PERSONAL

David G. Roberts Jr. of the Andover National bank attended a national banking school this month. He left Aug. 7 for the school in Washington, D.C. and returned Aug. 19.

Things bring worries... unless—

It's true that possessions may bring worries as well as satisfaction.

As you acquire a house, a car, furniture, jewelry and a bank account, you can (and should) start to worry about what may happen to 'em.

Your house may burn up or blow away. You may hit somebody with your car or a golf ball and get sued for 'big dough. Or somebody may steal your car or diamond ring. And so on.

The only cure for such worries is to carry plenty of fire, windstorm, theft, liability and other insurance to protect you in case of any kind of loss.

And that's WHERE WE COME IN to help you.

Democrats Did Us Harm

There is no doubt that we need the relocated Route 28.

On its eventual construction have been pinned the hopes for industrial expansion, residential growth and increased prosperity based on economic growth throughout the immediate area.

But last week, a politically-dominated group of 74 Democrats killed the measure which would have given us that highway.

The only hopeful sign is that Governor Herter immediately sent a special message to the House requesting passage of another bill — identical with the highway bond issue of $150,000,000 killed by the Democrats.

Perhaps it will pass — although there is grave fear that it will not. For the Democratic leadership has chosen to play politics with the measure — when the actual economic future of an entire area may rest on its passage.

They are to be condemned for their callous disregard of this area.

As the relocation of Route 28 now stands, we have assurances that part of it will be built. But that section will be in Methuen, from the New Hampshire line to the river. A bridge is also planned across the Merrimack, using funds already available.

But what good is the short piece of road in Methuen and a bridge across the river without the connecting links to Boston?

It is on those portions of the road that we will depend and those are the sections to be paid for from the current bond issue.

We take pains to point out that all three representatives from this district supported the bond issue. Reps. Giles, Longworth and Slack recorded their votes for the area they represent and should be commended for it.

It is the willful minority — the 74 Democrats — who have so seriously threatened our future. We can only hope that their constituents take appropriate action when voting time comes around.

Water Problem Well Handled

Water Superintendent Ralph Preble handled the serious water-pressure problems in a competent manner during the past few weeks.

The board of public works, too, should be commended for taking immediate steps to install some 2000 feet of eight-inch pipe in the most seriously affected area.

While that installation and irrigation control may have solved the problem temporarily, we expect that even further modernization and extension will be required throughout the town during the next few years.

We are certain that the board of public works will come up with a solution to the water problems at the next town meeting — and all voters should give those solutions very careful consideration. For the extension of water service and the modernization of existing lines will certainly be a necessity if the town is to keep pace with its residential building boom.

As nations become more civilized warfare becomes more deadly.

What Our Readers Say—

WE NEED INDUSTRY

Editor Of The Townsman:

I have read with interest, your recent editorials on the advisability of a business development committee for the town of Andover.

It is evident that such a committee could do a great deal of good for the town, and I have written a letter to the board of selectmen, under date of Aug. 16, suggesting that they take some action along this line.

I also read the editorial in your issue of last Thursday, and agree with most you say — except the very end. After stating the rather high qualifications, you suggest that the man step forward and volunteer. This is not likely to happen, and in my opinion is not a practical solution.

Would it not be better for the selectmen — or whoever is responsible — to choose a group of outstanding men of the town, and ask them to serve in this capacity? Time is short. Something should be done soon.

Robert A. Watters

P.S. Please be assured I am not the man you are looking for; otherwise I would not have written this!

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — August 1905

Work is rapidly progressing on Fred Smith's house, near Wilson's corner.

Miss Sarah Wright of Lynn has purchased the Pearson farm on Salem rd.

Members of the Salvation Army of Lawrence have erected a tent on the Locke estate, corner of Elm st. and Walnut ave., and will give services there two nights a week until early fall. Last Sunday's service was well-attended but the Thursday service was nearly broken up by a gang of men. Their vile and profane language made it extremely difficult to proceed with the service.

The new census lists 6630 persons living here. It is a gain of less than two percent despite gains in business through the town. The report does not include Ballardvale, however. In 1895 the census listed 6145 persons here compared with the present total, which includes 3130 men and 3500 women.

Misses Gladys and Helen Higgins are spending a week with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison, in Merrimac.

Miss Cecilia Kydd of Cuba st. is visiting in Worcester.

25 Years Ago — August 1930

The finance committee has approved one of three articles in the warrant for the special town meeting. Approval was given to the article asking for $5000 for repairs to Union st., as a supplement to the appropriation at the annual town meeting. The committee did not approve an article asking for money to spend, via the public works department, for unemployment reasons nor an article for money for brush cutting, also designed to relieve unemployment.

The registrars of voters will be in session next Wednesday from 12 noon to 10 p.m. for those wishing to register to vote in the state primaries Sept. 16.

New officers of Garfield lodge 172, Knights of Pythias, were installed Tuesday evening in Fraternal hall. The chancellor-commander is Thomas Thin.

Many members of American Legion post 8 are serving on committees preparing for the national legion convention in Boston in the fall.

A New Jersey woman required four stitches to close a head wound after a car she was driving hit a tree on Lowell st., at Haggitt's pond. Wet roads were blamed for the accident.

Bids on a postoffice site were opened Wednesday evening, with a representative of the treasury department present. Six bids were opened and taken under advisement by the treasury official.

There will be a benefit entertainment Sept. 3 in Punchard hall for the playgrounds. The Sock and Buskin club of Andover will present a one-act comedy and there will be other entertainment.

The recently-appointed bowling committee of the Knights of Columbus met last week and formed plans for the year. It was also announced that the baseball game between married and single men will be played Monday night, following postponement from last Friday.

10 Years Ago — August 1945

The three-day carnival at the playstead, sponsored by the Service Men's Fund association, will close Saturday. There are many fine attractions, including a big cash door prize every night.

William Ward, Andover st., was badly burned about the face and body Thursday noon when a pail of gasoline burst into flames. He had been working in a local garage, using the gasoline to clean a motor.

Public schools will reopen Wednesday, Sept. 5, for the fall and winter term. It is expected that Kenneth L. Sherman, now on military leave of absence, will return to his duties as superintendent. Edward I. Erickson, serving in that capacity during Mr. Sherman's absence, will take up new duties in Longmeadow Sept. 1.

The annual playground field day activities were held Friday evening.

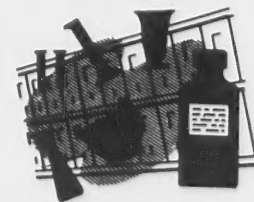

Mrs. Harriet A. Pearson Foster, oldest living graduate of Punduate high school, celebrated her 99th birthday last Saturday at her daughter's home in Reading. She graduated in 1864, with the fifth class. She attended reunions regularly up until a few years ago.

The West church fair is scheduled for Sept. 12. There will also be a turkey supper at 6:30, with tickets in charge of Mrs. Arthur Lewis and Mrs. William Trow.

Salvage collections will be continued in the town, despite the official end of the war with Japan. The first paper collection will be made Sept. 16 and will be continued every six weeks until the shortage in paper pulp has been eliminated.

The Veterans Service office will be open Friday evenings from 7-9 for the convenience of veterans who wish to file state bonus applications.

Pomp's Pond Is Closed For Season

Pomp's pond is definitely closed for the season.

The Recreation committee has stressed its decision to keep the pond closed, based on dangerous conditions caused by Hurricane Diane.

The committee reported flooding, via the Shawsheen river, which has covered and weakened the piers; safety zone markers are submerged and erosion has been great enough to cause sharp drop-offs in the "crib" where the small tots formerly swam with safety.

The water covered four steps of the stairs leading from the beach to the hill, causing "a serious bathing hazard".

The committee reports also that the relocation of safety equipment would take a week — but that only five days of swimming time remained at the pond.

Bacteria Content

A report earlier in the week that the water was found suitable for swimming referred only to a bacteria-content report from the state. Dr. William V. Emmons, chairman of the health board, and the Recreation committee originally had closed the pond when the Shawsheen river caused flooding last weekend. It was felt at that time that some pollution might have occurred as a result of the flooding.

As the season came to an abrupt end, the committee reported a total attendance of 35,725 — some 5286 more than last year.

Senior Life Guards

Just before the closing, it had been announced that several members of the senior lifesaving class had successfully completed a two-part examination. They had answered written questions on lifesaving methods and had demonstrated their acquired knowledge of these methods.

The latest group to complete the exams included Douglas Anderson, William McCullom and Betty Jane McEvoy.

Many others, who had passed the course, also had donated 10 hours as assistants to the life guards. Many had also given time as teachers in the beginner classes.

They included Joan Lynch, Jessie Gill, Patricia Murnane, Glenn Williams, Robert Grudzinski, Barry Flynn, Jean Dumont, Don McAnern, Dorothy Byrnes and Henry Beaulieu.

Beginners

Beginning swimmers who passed their tests before the closing included Donald Boulanger, Robert Boulanger, Alison Dodd, Rita Lancaster, John C. O'Connor, Ricky Ross, Thomas Abbott and Lawrence Kidd.

Greater Lawrence. The local chapter belongs to that fundraising organization and must have its approval before engaging in separate money-soliciting ventures.

Miss Barbara A. Loomer, executive secretary of the chapter, said some 200 persons will be involved in the drive. Residents who wish to donate are being asked to leave their porch lights on, she explained.

The local activity has come as a result of a request from the National Red Cross, it was announced. That organization has urged member chapters all over the country to solicit emergency disaster funds.

The money collected will be used in the disaster areas, Miss Loomer explained, and is used on an outright gift basis. None of it is paid back to the Red Cross, she stressed.

Plan Meeting On Sewer Problems

A public meeting in Ballardvale will be held either Sept. 2 or Sept. 9 to discuss sewage problems.

Mrs. Wendell Hopkins, 12 Chester st., said this week that plans have been made to have a speaker from the state department of public health. He will discuss the sewage problems of the area and point out many reasons why it is essential for homeowners to connect their plumbing to a public sewer, she said.

It is also expected that Sidney P. White, chairman of the board of public works, will be at the meeting to answer any questions about the board's participation in the sewer project.

Invites Deputy

Mrs. Hopkins said she has written to the state department asking that Deputy Commissioner Sterling address the meeting. He is in charge of sanitation for that state agency.

Board of Health Agrees

A decision to hold the public meeting was reached at a board of health meeting some days ago. Members of the board and Mrs. Hopkins agreed that educational methods should be used to get homeowners to connect their plumbing to the sewer.

Dr. William V. Emmons, chairman of the board, pointed out at that time that the board has allowed a year — until Jan. 1, 1956 — for the connections to be made. After that time, those not having made the connection will be required to do so by the board of health.

LEGISLATURE COULD SOLVE STREET CRISIS

session by a two-thirds vote of the House Rules committee.

If admitted, Chairman Collins said he believes passage would be swift because the bill only affects Andover.

The problem arose when it was discovered that many streets in the town do not appear on the records as being accepted. Despite that fact, they have been serviced, in many cases, for years and years. Mr. Collins pointed out that some of the streets in question have been used for 60 or 70 years and have received improvements, from time to time, as though they were accepted.

May Be Expensive

When the planning board refused to recognize Blood rd. as an accepted street, the whole question of some 75 such streets came up. It was felt that the town might have to spend some $125,000 to improve them all to meet current standards for acceptance.

By having the legislature permit the acceptance of the streets as they are, the town could avoid that expensive move and could also prevent delay until the next annual town meeting in March.

Money for improvements on some of the streets was voted at the last town meeting but the work is now being held up until the problem of acceptance is solved.

Mr. Collins said the town of Acton had a similar problem and solved it through an act of the legislature.

Dec. 15 Is Filing Date

If the legislature prorogues before the bill can be prepared or if it does not agree to admit the bill, action would probably be asked from the 1956 legislature, Mr. Collins said.

He pointed out that the bill must be filed by Dec. 15 if it is to be heard at the next annual session of that body.

Call For Bids On High School

Bids have been requested for the new high school.

The $1,750,000 project is being advertised with bids to be opened Sept. 15. Work, the school building committee explains, will begin as soon after that date as possible.

Site development activities began at the Esther Smith property on Shawsheen rd. on Aug. 1. Clerk of the works Edward P. Hall is supervising the work for the town.
